CTE Pathway Dual Credit Courses

- State-sponsored dual credit courses can be used to enhance approved high school CTE programs.
- In order to be included for CTE credit, the state-sponsored dual credit courses must be included as part of a school's CTE program application. Courses taken outside of an approved program will not count as secondary CTE credit, including for benefits outlined below.
- An approved cluster must include a minimum of two secondary courses. Programs that are entirely comprised of dual credit (I.e., a postsecondary-only pathway) will not be approved.
- State-sponsored dual credit courses from the list that follows, as part of a high school's approved program, may count toward concentrator status (including for the College and Career Readiness indicator on the report card) and the Advanced Career Endorsement for students.
- State-sponsored dual credit courses, as part of an approved program, are intended to enhance local programming by allowing students further growth, exploration, and skill development as they progress within a cluster.
